Public Participation: Karen Moss addressed Council and gave a wrap up on the Bicentennial. She stated that she feels it was a great thing for the Village and comments on the Facebook page and people coming up and saying how wonderful everything went makes it all more meaningful. She again thanked the Committee and recognized those in attendance and said this group was an amazing team. She reviewed what they did even after the event was over including the Halloween Boocentennial, a community church service and the Holiday decorating contest. The Facebook page was the greatest tool that the Bicentennial had and the information and feedback has been phenomenal. The community spirit is at an all time high and I hope that continues. Debbie Mason addressed Council and said Karen is not taking enough credit for all that she did for the Village Bicentennial celebration and her leadership in this group of people. Debbie said she and Donna Cross manage the Facebook page and we have about 2,051 regular followers and they are going to continue to keep the Facebook page. She said some posts have been shared all over the world and that is just incredible. She reviewed the Holiday decorating contest, which included over 40 entries of homes and businesses where they recognized 11 first place, 11 second place and 3 honorable mentions (25 total). Winners all got a Bicentennial gift bag with items from the Bicentennial and other small gifts. This was a big hit and it really excited the community so we plan to continue this next year. Ernest said to Debbie that her articles were exciting all year long and he really enjoyed them all. Denise Robertson addressed Council with a presentation of a certificate of recognition from President Donald Trump. The Mayor thanked the group for all their hard work and it was appreciated very much.

Committee/Staff Report: Village Administrator Rusty Wilson mentioned that Christmas decorations are coming down this week and since the new backhoe is here he would like to go ahead and advertise the sale of the old one. Dave had surgery Monday and will be out 3 weeks maybe a little longer. Kelly has some questions on a property line that we can discuss and that is all. Judy asked about the gates at the park and Rusty said he is still waiting on the insurance company but he will probably go ahead and replace them and the insurance company can reimburse us. Mayor's Court Clerk Nancy Melton reviewed her report with Council and stated that hopefully with the new Registration Block paperwork we may start to see some of the older tickets being paid.

Old Business: Kelly said we need to think about advertising the Wagers property if the Village does not want to keep it. Debbie said she would like to send letters to the adjoining owners letting them know we are going to sell it and put it out for bid that way if they want it they can bid on it. Kelly made a motion to put a description in the paper and contact the adjoining property owners. Ernest second. Roll call. Kelly –
